Trace & Copy Horizontal & Vertical Lines

The handwriting practice sheet is organized into three rows, each with a set of four horizontal lines (top, middle-dashed, bottom, and baseline) and a series of vertical lines for tracing and copying.

- Row 1: Vertical Lines
  - The first vertical line is thick black with a downward-pointing arrow indicating the stroke direction.
  - Following it are 14 thin gray vertical lines for tracing.
  - Below the lines are two blank sets of four horizontal lines for copying.
- Row 2: Uppercase 'T'
  - The first 'T' is thick black with stroke order arrows: a horizontal line from left to right (labeled '1') and a vertical line from top to bottom (labeled '2').
  - Following it are 7 thin gray 'T's for tracing.
  - Below the lines are two blank sets of four horizontal lines for copying.
- Row 3: Uppercase 'L'
  - The first 'L' is thick black with stroke order arrows: a vertical line from top to bottom (labeled '1') and a horizontal line from left to right (labeled '2').
  - Following it are 7 thin gray 'L's for tracing.
  - Below the lines are two blank sets of four horizontal lines for copying.
