

ERRATA FOR THE TIMELINE PROGRAM

Corrections

- The date for "Baptism of Clovis and St. Benedict" has been changed in the Timeline Program to A.D. 496 to better reflect contemporary accounts of Clovis' baptism as well as the date given in Famous Men of the Middle Ages for this event. Very few dates in St. Benedict's life are certain, but a range of 496-500 A.D. is often given by historians to mark the era that Western Monasticism grew out of.
- The Third Millennium technically began in the year A.D. 2001. It is the two thousandth and first year after the birth of Christ according to the Gregorian Calendar.
